

Help Me Grow's Support to Families with Young Children: Essential Infant and Toddler Basic Needs during the COVID-19 Crisis

From the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Help Me Grow National Network quickly mobilized to connect with more families in their perspective communities and state across the country. With an increase in calls to the Centralized Access Point, HMG systems identified the shift of families accessing their local HMG for developmental child needs to inquiring about the immediate basic needs of their young children and household including but not limited to: food, clothing, diapers, formula, and housing. With resources made available by The JPB Foundation, eleven HMG systems rallied to meet this need in their communities.
